UNIVERSITY

ABOUT THE SCHOOL OF PUBLIC POLICY

The School of Public Policy, in the words of its founder George Soros, is a “new kind of global institution dealing with global problems.” It is committed to the values of public service and the promotion of open societies through interdisciplinary research, innovative teaching, and engagement with policy practice. Building on CEU’s tradition of diversity, the School seeks to attract exceptional students from all parts of the globe, fostering a unique learning experience both in and out of the classroom. The University is an English language institution accredited in the United States and Hungary.

CAREERS

The professional MPA program equips students with policy knowledge, analytical frameworks, qualitative and quantitative skills, and practical experiences to make a positive difference throughout the world. Because the MPA degree is versatile, graduates are expected to have careers for the public good throughout the public, nonprofit, and private sectors.

RUMBIDZAI MASANGO | STUDENT

COUNTRY OF ORIGIN: ZIMBABWE

“My work experience in Zambia is what propelled me to actively pursue my master’s degree. To be a changemaker it was clear that a policy degree would be essential. It was after discussing this decision to further my studies with my mentor that he recommended the MPA degree at the School of Public Policy.”

MASTER OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION (Two Years)

The curriculum design reflects the importance for students to acquire knowledge, skills, and practical experience. Through a Passion Project and summer internship, students apply and put into practice the knowledge and skills learned in the classroom.

SKILLS FOR IMPACT

The Skills for Impact (SFI) program is an integrated set of practical modules designed to enhance students' leadership skills for improving public policy. Among the courses offered are strategic leadership, negotiation, project management, policy writing, budgeting and fundraising, advocacy, and crisis and risk management.

PASSION PROJECT

The Passion Project is a student-designed, policy-oriented capstone project. Over the course of the two-year program, student teams will identify a concrete policy challenge for selected clients and develop a high-quality, policy-relevant product outlining a recommended response. The product aims to help improve the client's performance and meet its policy objectives.
