

Gender and the Economic Crisis

September 15-16, 2016

Budapest, Hungary

Thursday, September 15

CEU Auditorium

17:00-19:00

Opening Remarks

Michael Ignatieff, President and Rector, CEU

Julia Buxton, School of Public Policy, CEU

Andrea Krizsan, Center for Policy Studies, CEU

Keynote Address: Gender and the Crisis

Sylvia Walby, Lancaster University

Followed by a reception

Friday, September 16

Oktober 6 utca 7, Room 101

9:00-11:00

Modes of Gendered Resilience to the Crisis

Chair – Mieke Verloo, Radboud University, Nijmegen

White Ignorance and Women of Color's Anti-Austerity Activism in Europe

Akwugo Emejulu, University of Edinburgh

Feminist Resistance to Austerity in Romania

Oana Baluta, University of Bucharest, FILIA

Protesting Austerity Measures in Spain

Laura Sales Gutiérrez, SURT, Barcelona

Feminist Resistance to the Crisis in Hungary

Judit Wirth (NANE, Hungary)

11:00-11:30

Coffee Break

11:30-13:30

The Economic Crisis in Europe

Chair – Wendy Stokes, London, Metropolitan University

Gender and the Political Dimension of the Economic Crisis in Europe

Emanuela Lombardo, Complutense University Madrid

Austerity and Gender in Central and Eastern Europe

Eva Fodor, Gender Studies Department, CEU

Policy Backlash Across Inequality Groups in the Context of the Crisis. A Research Agenda

Joanna Kostka, Andrea Krizsan, Violetta Zentai, Center for Policy Studies, CEU

13:30-14:30

Lunch

14:30-16:30

Going Beyond Economic Aspects of the Crisis

Chair - Elissa Helms, Gender Studies Department, CEU

Crises and Challenges to Gender Equality in Right-Wing Populist Politics

Ov Cristian Norocel, Centre for Research on Ethnic Relations and Nationalism (CEREN), University of Helsinki, and Department of Government, Uppsala University

The Threat of the Gender Ideology in the Context of the Economic Crisis

Roman Kuhar, University of Ljubljana

The Impact of the Economic Crisis Politics on Gender+ Equality and Democracy

Mieke Verloo, Radboud University, Nijmegen

16:30-17:00

Coffee Break

17:00-18:00

Closing Discussion. What Have We Learned?

Chair – Julia Buxton, School of Public Policy, CEU

Sylvia Walby, Lancaster University

Mieke Verloo, Radboud University, Nijmegen

Eva Fodor, Gender Studies Department, CEU